Notes / FAQ:

1. Companies may register under one entity and then bid as another where a parent company may wish to bid through a wholly owned subsidiary and each company can show that it has the E&P capability and/or track record to either operate or partner in offshore upstream exploration
2. Where companies might bid as part of a Consortium, each company independently needs to Register and Sign the CA. This ensures that each company that is subsequently authorised as a bidder can review the data in the VDR's independently. It also means two parties do not need to declare they are part of the same consortium until they decide to jointly bid?
